

Scene 1 - Opening speech:

MAX MOGUL

Greetings all. Max Mogul here, CEO of Mogul Industries Inc. You may know me as a Youtuber, a chef, an activist, entertainer, entrepreneur, guru (the list is endless)... but today I give you the opportunity to know me as...your PARTNER.

eh, come again?

Yes, That's right. Today I'm offering a unique chance to one lucky budding influencer to win the chance to work alongside me in my multimillion dollar enterprise. Pretty sweet huh? Eh YEAH I hear you say!

So what exactly does this once in a lifetime job opportunity involve? Well, you'll accompany me to the hottest world premieres and dance to the sickest beats at my concerts. You'll ride atop my safari jeep as we travel deep into the South African jungle to check up on my adopted pride of lions, and you'll be right by my side as we invent the most awesome tech gadgets for kids all over the world to marvel over. Plus you'll score a cool one million euro as pocket money....and that's just for starters!

So... what will it take to make to the Maximum? (that's the name of my house by the way, where you'll also be staying)? I just need a short video from you telling me why you're the best person for the job. Simple as.
Sell yourself. Be Real - Dream
Big and take it to the MAX. Peace out.

Scene 2 - Angry speech:

MAX MOGUL

Well well well, if it is isn't little innocent Grace. Tries to blend in with the wallpaper, tries to just do her best and be everyone's buddie...but guess what? it's all a little thing we like to call FAKE NEWS!

Little miss Grace has been fooling you all - she's not the queen of fashion influencer that we thought she was...no siree, she is in fact a lowly little bottom feeder of instagram, with a mere 15 followers and a hit ratio of maybe 2 likes to every boring cat picture that she posts.

Grace Campbell Clarke, oh let's drop the Clarke shall we, has been lying to you ALL about who she really is. ..you see our motto is Be Real - Dream Big, and so we don't really care very much for liars round here, and each action must have a reaction....so it is time for you to step forward.
